Don't Fail to Vote

Bad Weather Is on Way, Drayden States

Drayden Smith, on commenting on the weather, peanut and election conditions, stated that the moon will cross the equator Friday night and after Tuesday night he predicted rain, rain and a freeze.

He said the election will be very close in the nation as a whole but the South will remain solidly Democratic right on. He failed to state whether he figured Stevenson or Eisenhower would bring the Federal weather conditions following Tuesday's election.

Mr. Smith said the peanut harvest is progressing rapidly and good yields are being reported from most sections. Quality of peanut hay is the best he has ever seen.

4 AMENDMENTS ARE ON BALLOT

At the election Nov. 4 four amendments are being voted upon. No. 1 would earmark gas taxes for road building alone. This is the original purpose for which a gasoline tax was imposed.

Amendment No. 2 would extend the tenure of sheriffs from four years to six. Amendments 3 & 4 apply to local counties who are trying to get authorization to sell bonds to raise money that will attract industry to their areas.

Rains Tells Demos to Get Out the Vote

Get all the Democrats out to vote Nov. 4 because Alabama is still Democratic, Albert Rains, congressman from the fifth congressional district, told Coffee County party leaders at a fund-raising dinner Thursday night. Over 170 persons attended the $5-per-plate dinner to hear Rains attack Eisenhower and the Republican party.

Rains struck at the opposition by saying the Democrats are taking care of the farmers with a price support program and by backing REA and TVA. On corruption in government, he stated his party had been on guard against it as Democrats had been chairman of committees ferreting out wrongdoers.

Eisenhower's qualifications were attacked because he was a military man with no civil experience in business or government.

Advantages the South holds in Congress under a Democratic regime was brought out as the fact that Southerners hold the chairmanship on many vital congressional committees where legislation is really passed.

Tardy Poll Tax Payers Will Not Be Able to Vote Nov. 4

Persons who couldn't vote in the April primary because of back poll taxes can't vote in the general election, Nov. 4, St. Gerrett, attorney general has advised Probate Judge J. O. English.

His letter reads: "On October 8, I advised you that a person, possessing all of the other requisites of a qualified elector, who was due poll tax on Oct. 1 but failing to pay the same on or before February 1, 1952, does not become eligible to vote in the general election to be held Nov. 4 by the payment of such poll tax by way of October 1 and the date of such general election."

"After so advising you, the Supreme Court of Alabama, in answer to an inquiry from the Governor of Alabama, rendered an advisory opinion on October 21 which confirms my previous holding."

Enterprise Planning Gala Celebration For Armistice Day

The program will include a parade at 1 o'clock in the afternoon. Tanks, artillery, troops of a drill team, several army bands and the Coffee County High School band will participate.

A football game between the 164th and 125th Infantry Division Regiments will begin at 2 o'clock in Peanut Stadium. These are two of the top teams at Camp Rucker.

A free barbecue for military personnel will be held at the VFW club at 4:30 o'clock. Each soldier is allowed one guest. A crowd of 3,000 is expected.

A street dance will be held at night between the court house and bell weevil monument.

Trucks from Camp Rucker will be sent into homes in Enterprise as guests for the noon meal as part of the program.

Enterprise is extending an invitation to all the surrounding towns to visit them Nov. 11 and take part in the activities.

RAIN EVERYWHERE

"Uncle" Ace Lowery returned home Sunday from a four-week visit with relatives in Tampa, Fla. He said it rained most of the time he was there and he was greatly surprised to find it so dry here. Politics in the state are not and the voters badly aroused. He predicts the Democrats will carry the state, though. He said he means to vote Democratic like he has voted all his life—that he is too old to change now.

POOR ORIGINAL BLEED THROUGH

LIBERTY HANGS HER HEAD IN SHAME AT THE MESS IN WASHINGTON

"Morality In Government Has Declined To The Lowest Ebb In The Nation's History. The American People Are Deeply Ashamed And Rightly Disturbed . . ." Senate Report No. 649, 82nd Congress

Today, in place of government for all the people, we have a government of, and by crooks and cronies—a government by a grasping political monopoly that's hand in glove with crime, corruption and communism.

The tragic record is plain for all to see—blunder on blunder—waste upon waste—scandal after scandal. Despite high-level white-washes and cover-ups, corruption has been traced to the White House itself!

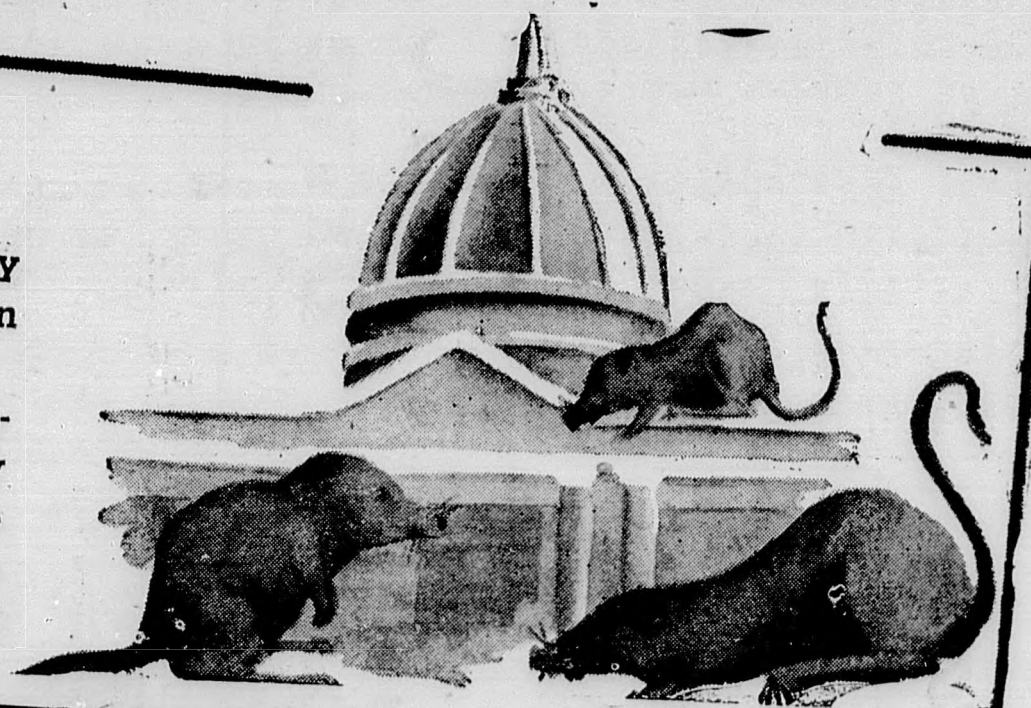

CROOKED TAX COLLECTORS

With pay envelopes being tapped by Truman-appointed tax collectors for $1 out of every $4—the public certainly had a right to expect that the men who collect these back-breaking taxes would be above reproach.

But look at the sorry record. Already eight tax collectors and nearly two hundred assistants have been indicted, jailed or forced to resign as they have been caught with their hands in the tax payers' pockets.

Thanks to the efforts of Congressional investigators, the public now knows how knowing the right people or greasing the right palms magically ends the tax trouble of those "in the know."

THE TRAGEDY OF KOREA

Most Americans were proud of our action in Korea at the outbreak of the war. It seemed the only honorable thing to do at the time. But after we were in it, every one of us had a right to ask how it happened. Why was the war allowed to start in the first place? President Truman and Secretary of State Acheson have not yet given a satisfactory answer to this question and cannot without revealing another sordid chapter of ineptitude and bungling.

POORER AT HIGHER DAY

37 Years Ago in Elba

By C. B. McDowell

Coffee County is to receive $28,000.00 from the State Educational fund for the public schools during the coming year.

W. T. Wallings was found guilty of murder in the second degree by a jury last night and was sentenced to serve ten years in the penitentiary. The Walling case is one of the most interesting that has come to trial in Elba for some time. He was charged with killing Jim Sexton early this year.

There were a number of witnesses in the case and the trial lasted from Tuesday afternoon until Thursday night. There was a great deal of evidence since the preliminary trial. Two of the witnesses testified for the state.

The fourth quarterly conference of the Elba and New Brockton will be held here on Oct. 24-25.

37 Years Ago—Coffee County Circuit Court.

At 5 o'clock when the jury gave a verdict in the Pearce case. All juries were dismissed.

Three murder cases were disposed of. The case against Tillman Ridd charged with killing Ben Smith was not pressed. W. T. Walling, charged with killing Jim Sexton was given a ten-year sentence. Ewell Pearce, who was charged with killing Claude Wallace received a seven-year sentence.

37 Years Ago—Messrs. Marion Morrow, O. C. Smith, J. W. Roberts and W. H. Seagraves, prominent farmers, left Wednesday morning for Valdosta, Ga. to attend a big auction sale of livestock. All of these gentlemen are specially interested in hog-raising and doubtless will buy some blooded.

First reports were that he had shot himself accidentally but investigation shows he committed suicide. He had been hunting by Dink Roseberry, colored, early in the morning and had

SOIL CONSERVATION NEWS

By C. H. Harper
Soil Conservationist

Alabama's soil resources are its greatest natural asset. Our soils constitute an important part of the foundation of the state's economy. The improvement and maintenance of our soils in a high state of productivity are essential to the well-being of every citizen.

In the early 30's many frightened Americans saw the decline of our soil fertility and the damage caused by the unchecked forces of wind and water. A survey was made to determine the erosion and depletion damage.

It was found the one productive area lands of the West were

Births Reported in Coffee County During Month of September

Births reported to the Coffee County Health Department during September were:

Mr. & Mrs. L. A. Adkinson, boy, New Brockton.

Mr. & Mrs. Willie G. Bragg, boy, Jack, Rt. 1.

Mr. & Mrs. Charles D. Barnhart, girl, Enterprise.

Mr. & Mrs. Clanton J. Bryant, boy, Daleville, Rt. 1.

Mr. & Mrs. K. C. Boutwell, boy, Enterprise.

Mr. & Mrs. Robert J. Brubaker, boy, Enterprise, Rt. 1.

Mr. & Mrs. Claude J. Childress, boy, Ozark, Rt. 2.

Mr. & Mrs. Travis L. Cooley, girl, Chancellor, Rt. 1.

Mr. & Mrs. Ewice Dickey, boy, Tannehill, Ala.

Mr. & Mrs. James R. Day, boy, Enterprise.

Merry Truman has taxed us $310 billions in 7 years--$65 billion more than all preceding presidents put together, including F. D. R.
High tax Harry may be dwarfed by the stature of previous presidents--but his merry tax collectors have raised a monument to Insatiable Greed that tops anything ever known to Americans.

If you'd like to know what this $310 billion means to you as, say, a married person with two children, here's the score:
If you earned $2,000 in 1940, you need $4,165 today to "have it so good" after swollen taxes and attendant inflation!
$6,595 today is no better than $3,000 in 1940--and if you earned $4,000 then, you need $9,010 now, to be as good a breadwinner!

IT'S YOUR FUTURE

Your vote will help elect a new administration and your future depends on whom you elect. Use your ballot to elect Eisenhower and Nixon as a vote for prosperity without war for a future without fear.

You can vote for Ike presidential electors in the third column of your ballot and still vote in the first column for your Democratic friends running for state and local offices. But remember, leave the circle under the party emblem blank because if you don't that would be a vote cast for four more years of Trumanism.

It is better to select closely woven fabrics for slip covers because they give greater protection against dust, hold their shape better, wear longer, and tailor more easily than do loosely woven materials.

in danger of becoming a dust bowl. The cropland in Coffee county and Alabama which has been farmed less than 75 years had lost one-half to two-thirds of the topsoil.

Something had to be done or we faced a situation similar to that which now exists in India, China, Italy and other countries in the near East.

A conservation movement was started and laws were passed to enable locally controlled Soil Conservation Districts to organize. Coffee County was a part of the Wiregrass Soil Conservation District organized in April 1940. D. H. James was appointed the first supervisor to represent Coffee County on the governing body of the District.

The Soil Conservation Service made available technicians to assist the districts in carrying out conservation work. During the last 13 years Soil Conservation Districts have made tremendous strides.

It has been making land capability maps, preparing complete individual conservation plans, constructing terraces, drains, diversions and water reservoirs, idle, unproductive and cropland has been planted to pine trees, permanent pastures and hay crops.

Supervisors are anxious for people to know of the progress made in the district and to promote this week of Nov. 2-8 has been designated National Soil Conservation Districts Week.

Some of the first farmers in Coffee County to be assisted and who are doing a good job of conserving their soil are N. B. Vencoy, S. H. Pierce, F. E. Meek, C. M. Meacham, A. B. Helms, M. A. Helms, H. F. Free, L. A. Farris, T. J. Deal, Eugene Brown, Roy Barlow, J. T. Anderson and Charles Mallory.

We aren't stretching the truth when we say that many of our farmers plow up and down the hill. They are guilty of plowing across. Some tractor farmers have even gone so far as to go away with some of their terraces. They have forgotten the old saying "a crooked row makes more than a straight row."

Seriously speaking, an alarming number of farmers are allowing or even helping their farms wash away. "Horse sense" should tell us that rows crossing terraces serve as siphons to carry off the topsoil, clog terraces below and play havoc in general.

Terraces and sodded outlets are the basis on which conservation farming is built. In preparing complete conservation plans with the Wiregrass Soil Conservation District first priority is given to laying out, building and maintaining terraces.

Forty-six applications for terracing have been received by the Soil Conservation Service this year. Farmers who have actually started building terraces are Horace Windham, Elmer Day, Roy Barlow, Isaac Smith, A. J. Hyatt, J. D. Gunter, D. J. Dye, Earl Mixon, Rowe Bowers, G. D. Sexton, Vasco LeCompte, J. L. White, J. L. Sumbrlin, C. L. Fuller and J. D. Kendrick.

Others putting in terrace outlets and planning to build terraces this fall are Charles Mallory, John Carnley, W. I. Wise and Joe Cooper.

Holy Men

What about the so-called "Holy Men" who go around performing tricks, such as walking on hot coals or lying on a bed of nails? Most Indians would look at them as objects of curiosity, but at the same time with a certain respect. This respect is not founded on their magic or tricks, but by the fact that he has conquered the world.

Strength For Whose Days

THE BIBLE

If you have faith as a grain of mustard seed... nothing shall be impossible unto you. (Matthew 17:20)

What a glorious promise—if we shall have faith, even as little as a grain of mustard seed, we can increase our faith, it cannot grow by and of itself. Through prayer, through diligent thinking and living, through our exercise of it, it grows, it matures and it strengthens our faith.

A TRIBUTE

A visitor to West Point noticed that all the names engraved on a famous battle monument were those of men in the Union Army, killed in action during the Civil War. "Say," he called to a passing cadet, "what is this?"

"A tribute to the marksmanship of the Confederacy, sir," drawled the cadet.

THE MOUNTAINEER SHERIFF

The mountaineer sheriff was a picture of the rightest crusader as he led the revenue agents in a raid against one of his constituents.

He announced loudly, "I aim to dry these hills, even if I have to arrest every man who voted for me."

But he turned into a picture of stunned bewilderment when the raiding party came upon the constabulary, busily stirring mash at a giant still.

And his face shone onion-red as the constabulary told him, "I got the note you sent me yesterday, sheriff, but you'll have to tell me what it says. I thought you knewed I can't read."

Resourceful

Upon his arrival at the office, a Los Angeles businessman learned that he must catch a noon train to Fresno. His wife had friends there and he knew that they would want to accompany him. To find her was the problem, since she had gone shopping and didn't expect to be home before evening.

Then he remembered that she had charge accounts at several department stores. He dialed the merchants' credit association and requested that they have all retail members suspend his wife's accounts immediately. In less than an hour his wife was phoning him in tears. He squared things by telling her to pack her bags and meet him at the station.

MODERN MISS

"Darling," sighed the enraptured young man, "when I think that tomorrow is your birthday, and when I think that a year ago I didn't know you..."

"Sweetheart," murmured his darling, "don't let's talk about our past. Let's talk about my present."

HIS VIEWPOINT

Elsie: "She got her feelings hurt because she kept overhearing the word 'idiot' and thought you were referring to her."

Elizabeth: "How condescended as if there were no other idiots in the world."

TOO PROMPT

Hoping to inspire his workers with promptness and energy, a New York executive hung a number of signs reading "DO IT NOW" around his factory and office. When he was asked, some weeks later how his staff had reacted, he shook his head sadly. "I don't even like to talk about it," he said. "The cashier slipped with $500, the head bookkeeper eloped with the best secretary I ever had, three typists asked for an increase, the factory workers voted to go out on strike, and the office boy joined the Navy."

Turn Table

Joe E. Lewis once spent a night at Saratoga's old Grand Union Hotel. The railroad station was directly below, and a switching engine kept shunting cars back and forth incessantly. Finally Joe summoned the night clerk. "Maybe you can tell me," he suggested, "what time this hotel reaches Chicago?"

Careful, Cal!

When Calvin Coolidge was in the Massachusetts legislature, another member asked him whether the people where he came from said, "A hen lays, or a hen lies."

Save Him Trouble

Poet: "Is the editor in?" Reception girl: "No." Poet: "Well, just throw this poem in the waste basket for him, will you?"

Designing Woman

Seating herself in the dentist's chair, she pulled from her finger a wedding ring of heavy gold with a delicately chased design. "I'd like to use this for filling my teeth, please," she said.

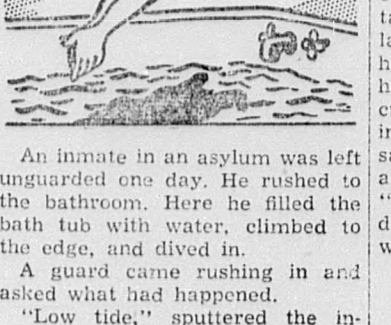

The dentist examined the ring.

"Why I suppose that could be done. But this is an expensive ring, madam. Are you sure you wouldn't rather let me use our regular gold?"

"I'm afraid not," the patient said regretfully.

"You see, I promised my first husband, before his death three years ago, that I would always wear his wedding ring. I'm getting married again next week, and the man I'm going to marry has made me promise that I'll wear only his ring after the ceremony. This is the only way I can keep my promise to both of them."

MORNING DIP

SHE—!

"She told me," a woman complained to a friend, "that you told her the secret I told you not to tell her."

"Well," replied her friend in a hurt tone, "I told her not to tell you I told her."

"Oh, dear," sighed the first woman. "Well, don't tell her I told you that she told me."

Zero Minus

Student: "I don't think I deserve a zero."

Teacher: "I don't either, but when I marked the papers I was in a generous mood."

Proof Positive

The average man is proof that the average woman can take a joke.

Test of Faith

Lesson for October 26, 1952

EVERY one who has carefully studied the "Sermon on the Mount" as we find it in Matthew, has run into a peculiar feature. The first two chapters (Matt. 5 and 6) move right along in logical fashion, one thought leading into the next, to a climax at the end of chapter 6. But chapter 7 seems to launch out in all directions. The sentences or topics do not follow a single thread of thought. The chapter is very hard to outline. There are various explanations of this. One is that in this chapter we have what might be called the discussion period or forum following the sermon. The various short paragraphs may be explained as being answers Jesus gave to questions which are not recorded. However that may be, we may select verses 12, and 15-27, and see how they answer four very natural questions which Jesus' teaching (especially in Matt. 5 and 6) would raise.

Bible in a Nutshell

Some one might ask: "Can't you make your teaching simpler and plainer? Could you put the whole thing in a nutshell?" So Jesus gives the Golden Rule (7:12), a single sentence that has embarrassed the eloquent and plain Christian alike. Jesus offers this as a kind of summary of the Bible, for in his time the Bible had our "Old Testament" was customarily called "The Law and the Prophets." This bothers the theologians because it always scandalizes a scholar to have everything put into one sentence, and besides, theologians are accustomed to finding a great deal more in the Old Testament than the Golden Rule. It loathers the common everyday Christian because when he looks at this summary, he knows how right Mark Twain was: "It's not what I don't understand in the Bible that disturbs me; it's what I do understand."

How Can You Tell?

Another question: How do we know you are teaching the truth? How can we tell you from a false prophet? Jesus gives a simple answer. You can tell a tree from its fruits. People who criticize Christianity should keep this point in mind. There is a great deal of "Christianendom" which is not good. But Christendom is not Christianity. Not even the church is Christianity. Anything in the church that ought not to be there, we must set against the account of the church, not against Christ. If the church is weak and sinful it is because and so far as she has failed to follow Jesus, not because she has followed him. The fruits of Christ, of his heart, his spirit, his teachings—these are good fruit. And if any one is disposed to doubt that, let him fairly answer this question: Where would you rather live, in a community in which the citizens were strange like Jesus, or one in which they were just the opposite?

Is Not Faith Enough?

Another question: Isn't a single act of faith enough? If I believe what I ought to believe, and if I honor Christ as Lord, isn't that enough to make me a Christian? Jesus offers a test of faith, as if in answer to some such question. It isn't just believing; it isn't paying honor to the name of Christ; it isn't preaching in his name. It is not even performing miracles. The question that will be asked at the Day of Judgment is: Did you do the will of God?

Will It Work?

One more question: Your teaching sounds interesting and is idealistic and all that, but is it meant for this world? Will it work? Jesus quite emphatically claims for his teachings an absolutely practical value. They are not some New-crover Land, they are not for some other time, some other life. They are not some radical upside-down topsy-turvy mess of peculiar notions. They are the bedrock of a life that will endure through storms. Do you want to find out whether these teachings and ideals of Jesus will work? He invites one and all to build their house of life upon them. He does not promise at any time that those who live by his teachings will be free from trouble, sorrow, opposition, tragedy. Storms come to all houses alike. What he does promise is that the life built here shall not fall.
